MEDIUM BIO · APPROX. 120 WORDS

Radhika Bhachu is Co-founder & CEO of Ndovu Wealth, a CMA-licensed investment, fund management and pensions platform with 230,000 users across Kenya, Uganda and Rwanda, and a member of the Ndovu Wealth Board. Before Ndovu, she spent more than 15 years in investments, pensions and wealth in London: as a Relationship Manager at BlackRock serving UK pension schemes, in investment consulting at Deloitte, and in private wealth at HSBC.

Today she brings that long-term discipline to everyday African savers, explaining investing in plain language and helping people tell real opportunities from risky schemes. Her message is simple: wealth is built in decades, not days. She is the creator of Invest With Confidence, an online investing course for beginners.

LONG BIO · APPROX. 250 WORDS

Radhika Bhachu is Co-founder & CEO of Ndovu Wealth and a member of the Ndovu Wealth Board. Since February 2022 she has built Ndovu into a CMA-licensed investment, fund management and pensions platform in Kenya, Uganda and Rwanda, with 230,000 users, licences in three countries plus a pension manager licence, and partnerships with telcos and banks. Ndovu has launched a money market fund, global ETFs, fractional shares and a multi-asset fund, and its 29-person team has 50% gender parity in the C-suite.

Her career in investments, pensions and wealth spans more than 15 years. At BlackRock in London (2015–2019) she was a Relationship Manager for UK pension schemes of £500m–£3bn, led the first close of a multi-asset fund that raised £500m in 2018, helped design a fixed income solution that raised £700m, and ran financial-literacy seminars for pension trustees. At Deloitte Consulting (2011–2015) she advised 26 pension schemes on asset allocation, LDI and ALM, and she began her career in private wealth at HSBC (2008–2009). In 2020 she was Founder in Residence at Antler in Nairobi.

Her guiding principle is that wealth is built in decades, not days. It shapes her teaching on stage, in the media and online, and in her beginner course, Invest With Confidence, which opens on 4 January 2027. Radhika holds a BSc in Mathematics from the University of Nottingham.

Radhika speaks in a personal capacity. Her views are her own and not those of Ndovu Wealth unless otherwise agreed in advance.

SPEAKING

Signature talks

Each talk can be tailored to the audience and delivered as a keynote, workshop or fireside chat. All content is educational, with no product recommendations or promises of returns.

01

Building Wealth in Africa

Why wealth is built in decades, not days, and what long-term investing looks like for someone earning in shillings or francs today.

- How time, consistency and compounding do the heavy lifting
- Setting goals that outlast market noise
- Thinking like an owner, not only a consumer

BEST FOR Conferences, corporate teams, young professionals

02

From Chamas to Portfolios

Chamas and savings groups are one of Africa's great financial habits. This talk shows how groups can build on that discipline with clearer goals, governance and diversification.

- What chamas already do well
- Questions every group should ask before investing together
- Diversification, liquidity and record-keeping, explained simply

BEST FOR Chamas, SACCO members, community groups

03

Spotting and Avoiding Investment Schemes

"Guaranteed" returns and "double your money" offers cost families dearly. A practical guide to the red flags, and how to check who is licensed before you hand over money.

- The classic red flags of a scheme
- How to check a provider's licence with the regulator
- Why risk and return always travel together

BEST FOR General audiences, media, universities, employers

04

Women and Money

A confident, practical conversation about women building wealth: closing the investing gap, negotiating household money decisions and planning for long horizons.

- Why women's investing journeys can look different
- Building confidence before building a portfolio
- Owning your financial decisions

BEST FOR Women's networks, corporate ERGs, professional associations

05

Generational Wealth

How families can think about wealth across generations: building assets, talking about money openly and passing on knowledge as well as savings.

- Starting money conversations at home
- Long-term planning for education and family support
- Turning good habits into a family legacy

BEST FOR Parents' groups, family businesses, faith and community audiences

06

Inflation and Your Shilling

What inflation really does to savings, and how to think about protecting purchasing power over the long run without chasing risky shortcuts.

- Inflation explained without jargon
- Why cash alone rarely keeps pace over time
- Matching risk to your time horizon

BEST FOR Business media, employers, financial literacy events
